About the theme of the conference:

Gender justice and eliminating all forms of discrimination against women are the fundamental philosophy of the Indian constitution and also UDHR. Women's Rights are never been a priority around the world. Attaining Gender Justice is a problem that is seen all over the world. Since human rights are infallible, integral and individual part of universal human rights, Women's rights should also be seen as integral part of human rights. It is pertinent to note the existing gap between the existence of them and their effective enjoyment. This full enjoyment of equal rights is undermined due to the discrepancies between the national legislation and the International conventions on human rights. The conference aims at identifying the gaps and suggests the suitable legislative reforms for uplifting and protecting the women's rights as basic human rights

Background and Objectives of the conference:
